The 67th Congress of the International Institute of Public Finance (IIPF) will be held in Ann Arbor, Michigan, USA, on August 8-11, 2011. Prospective contributors are invited to submit full papers no later than February 11, 2011. Both practitioners and academics are invited to participate. Papers should be submitted through <http://editorial.oxpress.com/conference/IIPF67>

The theme of the keynote addresses that will be presented at the Congress is Rethinking the Role of the State: Responses to Recent Challenges, focusing on how the tools and methods of Public Economics and related disciplines can serve to understand the issues.

Contributed papers on any topic within the field of Public Economics and related disciplines—whether related to the theme or not—will be considered, as is traditional at IIPF congresses. Submissions are invited by all public finance experts in their respective fields of specialty.

The papers to be presented will be selected by a Scientific Committee. Submission of a paper is considered to be a commitment to attend the Congress, subject to the condition that the paper is accepted by the Scientific Committee. Authors of accepted papers must join the IIPF before inclusion in the Congress program. Payment of the annual membership fee ensures a reduced registration fee. Non-members must pay a submission fee of €20 that will be credited against their membership fee when joining the IIPF as a member (for information about submission fee payment: www.ifo.de/iipf/products.feesForm).

Membership includes a subscription to the journal International Tax and Public Finance (see the IIPF Web site, www.iipf.org). Selected papers will be published in a special issue of this journal; to be considered for publication, papers must be submitted formally to the journal by September 14, 2011.

Papers submitted to the IIPF Congress should include keywords as well as the full name, affiliation, address, email, fax, and phone number of the author in charge of correspondence. Only pdf files will be considered (make sure to embed all fonts to ensure the pdf file will be readable across systems).
